The marriage will take place in this city

The marriage will take place in this city at an early date.

From St. Paul the youthful couple were accompanied by Theodore C. Link, father of the young man, who stated that, since the marriage is to take place, he prefers that it be solemnized at home.

Sarpy E. Cabanne, the young lady's father, said at his home, No. 5356 Vernon avenue, last night, that he was not yet ready to announce the date of the marriage of his daughter to Mr. Link, but admitted that it might take place soon.

Eliwin Link is only 22 and Miss Cabanne 19. Their youth caused some parental objection to a marriage at this time. The young persons, however, have been sweethearts for several years.

SCARCITY OF SMALL DWELLING-HOUSES

Agents Say That One Thousand New Residences Could Be Rented Before Completion.

NO DANGER OF OVERBUILDING.

Advance in Cost of Material and Labor Held to Be Responsible for the Present Conditions.

"I am quite sure that if a builder or in vestor were to give a contract now for 1,000 resideneces, containing from six to eight rooms, each, he could rent them all before completion."

W. J. Holbrook of the Holbrook-Blackwelder Real Estate Trust Company made the foreegoing statement yesterday in discussing the great demand for homes in St. ouls and the entirely inadequate supply. His statement was repeated to officials of he Mencantile and the Lincoln Trust companies, and other real estate agents who have a reputation for conservatism, coupled with sound judgment and knowledge of realty conditions in St. Louis. Without exception it was said that Mr. Holbrook had not overestimated the demand for a medium class of residences.

HOUSES QUICKLY RENTED.

For several months the rent lists in the various real estate offices have not contained a sufficient number of flats and apartments to accommodate customers. In most instances such places have been leased to new tenants before the oid ones moved out, and it has been a very rare thing for flats and apartments for remain posted more than a day or two.

But even more decided is the scarcity of average-size houses—the kind wanted by small families in moderate circumstances. It may be said that they are not to be found except by accident. Few are rented to new tenants, perhaps not a dozen in a month in certain parts of the city, while the inquiries for them amount to hundreds daily.

In stating that a thousand such houses HOUSES QUICKLY RENTED.

daily.

In stating that a thousand such houses could be rented before completion, if a contractor should put up that many, agents, of course, consedered the location. Convenience to street cars, and the desirability of the neighborhood are essential points. At present small tenements may be found vacant in various sections of St. Louis, but they are generally not considered desirable by persons who can afford to pay enough rental to have a small home fitted with all modern conveniences.

OVERBUILDING DISCUSSED. Several reasons are assigned for the de-lay in building, one of which is the fear among some investors that overbuilding prior to the World's Fair period might cause a reaction later.

"Do you think that with all the facilities for building that could be mustered in St. Louis the city could be overbuilt between this time and the opening of the Exposi-tion?" was asked many of the best-posted agents yesterday.

this time and the opening of the Exposition?" was asked many of the best-posted agents yesterday.

"We certainly do not," was the invariable reply. "With construction in progress at a rate that would consume all the building material the local market could supply and give employment to many more mechanics and laborers than are now in the city, we believe that three years' work would not result in an overproduction of houses.

"And if the present rate of building keeps up there will be always a scarcity," said Mr. Holbrook. Other agents agreed to this general proposition.

The advanced cost of construction, it is said, is having more to do with retarding work than is the fear of overbuilding, Many persons are holding off with the idea that prices will be reduced after the World's Fair. Whether this win he are call of doubted by many, and no one seems to look for a return to the scale that prevailed four or five years ago.

At that time, it is said, conditions were such that lumber dealers and the manufacturers of brick and other supplies sold at almost any price to make expenses, as arers of brick and other supplies sold at almost any price to make expenses, as the demand was small. Better markets, es-pecially in St. Louis, have caused the rise-not only in the prices of material, bu

Within the last six months lumber has advanced about 20 per cent. Bricks, which sold a few years ago for 14.50 are now sell-ing for 18.50 a thousand. Structural iron also has advanced, and the supply is very limited. also has advanced, and the supply is very limited.

E. J. Russell of Mauran, Russell & Garden, architects, stated yesterday that when he desired to order structural iron a few days ago he was told that in the delivery took its usual course, know as "mill order," the material could not be delivered in less than four months. If he had called for a delivery within thirty days 100 per cent would have been added to the price.

Carpenters who were making 35 cents an hour several months ago are now receiving 65 cents an hour. Brick masons are receiving an advance in the same ratio. At the Master Builders' Association headquarters in the Odd Fellows' building it was stated that in the spring the carpenters will demand 55 cents an hour. Plumbers will ask $5 a day on January 1, 1903.

HIGH RENTS EXPECTED.

Notwithstanding these conditions, it is believed that the necessity for more houses in St. Louis will force much building within the next eighteen months. And increased rent is expected to cause many person to find a way to build and own their own bomes.

"Prices may be cheaper after the Fair."

"Prices may be cheaper after the Fair," said Mr. Holbrook, "but I do not believe the difference will be sufficient to induce many persons to wait."

NEWS OF THE CITY CHURCHES.

Epworth League Union Planning a Mammoth Entertainment.

The Methodist Episcopal Church of the city is making rapid strides in the way of organizing and extending its influence. Two new churches have just been established, one at Maplewood and the other at Walnut Park. The pastor of the former is the Reverend Doctor J. F. Corrinaton, and the stated supply at the latter, in connection with Jennings, is the Reverend Columbus Bradford. It is expected that suitable buildings will be erected at Lota Maplewood and Walnut Park.

The cabinet of the Methodist Episcopal Epworth League Union held a merting at the Central Y. M. C. A last night, and decided on a "mammoth entertainment," to be held at some central place soon. The design of the entertainment is to raise a considerable sum which will be divided equally between home and foreign mission work. The Reverend Mr. Brown, former pastor of Tower Grove Church, is now laboring at Manila, and it is intended that half of the amount shall go to his work there. The league promises that only the best taient of the city will have a pince on the programme for the occasion.

The Reverend H. W. Sweeter and his singer, who are to conduct a series of revival meetings at Union Mission, arrived yesterday and took charge last night. At the close of this series the Reverend Doctor W. B. Bodby of Kentucky will give a ten days series of meetings with Bible readings at 2.30 p. m. each day.

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Baden has purchased an improved property on Hail's Ferry Road, which will be used for church purposes. The second floor will be living rooms for the pastor, the first floor for sunday school and other purposes and the basement for an auditorium.

The concluding session of the dedicatory exercises of the Temple of Spiritualism. No. 2015 Pine Street, will be held Wednesday afternoon and evening. Addresses will be made by Harrison D. Batrett, president of the National Spiritualists' Association, Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond, Chicago, Ill., Miss Lixrie Harlow, Hadensville, Mass., and spirit messages by Mrs. Georgia Gladys Cooley. A wooden windmill above the barn of George W. Fisher, at No. 3027 Olive street, is one of the few left in St. Louis, and the only one travelers see in going to the West End.

It has been pulling water out of a well 176 feet deep for the last twenty years, day and night, and its creaking has become so common to the residents of the West End on their trips downtown that it has been a part of their everyday life.

New York Bankers Irritated at Turn of Affairs Brought About by High Rates.

New York, Sept. 23.-The local financial situation continued to excite considerable situation continued to excite considerable interest to-day. Money on call fluctuated between 11 and 20 per cent before noon, opening at the first figure and advancing to 20 per cent in leaps. By noon the rate had eased off to 12 per cent.

An unusual and significant feature was the lending of money by individuals and firms who withdreww the greater part of their bank balances and made loans direct.

Naturally this curtailed the supply of bank money and created some ill-feeling between the banks and their clients. One prominent brokerage house is reported to have taken $1,00,000 cash out of two banks, lending the money at from 15 to 18 per cent.

Two leading banks reported to-day that withdrawals by their out-of-town correspondents presumably in the West and Southwest, had been unusually heavy. These drafts, it was added, were for crop purposes.

These drafts, it was added, were for crop purposes.

Considerable money is reported to be going to Chicago, Cleveland and St. Louis. Several out-of-town banks pursued their usual course on this occasion by withdrawing balances from the local banks and loaning them direct on the floor of the exchange. Local branches of the Canadian banks were heavy lenders at the higher rate.

In the last hour the rate for call loans were quoted at from 10 to 13 per cent. At the close money on call was strong at 6918 per cent and closed offered at 8.

ONE SUSPECT IS CAPTURED. Authorities Think He Was Implicated in Pullman Robberies.

California, Mo., Sept. 23.-A dispatch from St. Joseph, Mo., in to-day's Republic giving an account of the robbery of passengers or an account of the robbery of passengers on a Pullman car of the Missouri Pacific train the night previous says that the robbery was committed by two men who boarded the train at California, Mo.

The two men got on the train at Jefferson City with two or three accomplices, evidently a gang of pickpockets following a circus that was at Jefferson City Saturday. They robbed one man and attempted to rob several others on the train between Jefferson City and California.

Sheriff Ellott of this county, assisted by citizens, after reaching California arrested two of the men, who broke away from the officer and again boarded the moving train. Officers at Scalla were telegraphed, and one of the suspects was arrested when the train reached that city. He is now in the custody of the Sheriff of Cole County. Several citizens of California had their pockets picked while boarding the train at Jefferson City, evidently by the same gang who robbed the Pullman passengers before the train reached Kansas City.
